SPECIAL MENTIONS

Need to improve the functioning of Civil Aviation Sector

PROF. C. LAKSHMANNA (Andhra Pradesh): Madam Deputy Chairman, I would like to draw the attention of the House and the nation to the way in which the civil aviation sector in this country is functioning. Madam, I would like to deal with three specific aspects in which the Civil Aviation Ministry is functioning ineffectively.

In the first instance I would like to take the case of Air India. There has been a decline in the passenger traffic from 48 per cent in 1981 to 35 per cent by the end of the Sixth Plan. It appears, no specific efforts have been made to restore this. Apart from this Air India is now being ranked as one of the poorest service-oriented airlines. There has been, on the part of the Ministry, a denial of this. Nonetheless, civil aviation in the world has not recognised this protest. On the other hand, they main-
